

Planned Dam To Be Topic

Stony Creek Valley Coalition members will meet Wednesday and May 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Linglestown American Legion building to discuss a Pennsylvania Power & Light and Metropolitan Edison Co. proposal to build a pump storage hydroelectric dam in Stony Creek Valley.

The coalition is composed of 15 sportsmen's and environmental organizations and its members fear the proposed facility would "ecologically and aesthetically destroy a large portion of South-central Pennsylvania's wilderness, a spokesman said.

The organization is encouraging the power companies to utilize strip mined or quarry excavation sites instead of the present proposal.
